Wavell Shoulders Libya Responsibility

German Counter-Move Earlier Than Expected Against African Force

NEW DELHI, Nov. 10. — (Delayed) — (CP-Reuters) — Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, commander-in-chief in India, today shouldered responsibility for the British setback last spring in Libya by acknowledging that the Germans counter-attacked at least a month earlier than he had expected.

Italian Ports Are Raided By R.A.F.

ROME, Nov. 11.—(AP)—British Royal Air Force raids upon Naples and Brindisi and the Libyan port of Benghazi were acknowledged today by the Italian high command, which claimed four casualties among Bengasi Mohammedans. A communique said there was some damage to houses at Naples, west coast industrial port, and Brindisi, on the heel of the Italian boot. Three of the raiders were claimed to have been shot down. Casualties from a Friday night raid on Brindisi were said now to total 90 dead and 102 wounded and the high command claimed no military objective was hit. First reports told of the death of 38 persons in the Friday night attack.

Gen. Wavell, who was commander in chief in the Middle East at the time of the Libyan campaign and has since exchanged positions with Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, reviewed the African operations in a council of state here.

He said that following an appeal from the Greek government, which was under attack by both Germany and Italy, practically all the trained and equipped troops in the Middle East were ordered to Greece.

"Our conquests in Cyrenaica were left to be held by a garrison of partly-trained and partly-equipped troops," he said. "I made a miscalculation there."

EXPLAINS POSITION
"I did not expect the enemy to counter-attack before the end of April at the earliest—by which time I had hoped to have back at least part of a seasoned Indian division left in Cyrenaica which consisted of a British armored brigade, an Australian division and an Indian motor brigade."

"All these were short of equipment, transport and training. Unfortunately the enemy attacked at least a month before I had expected it to be possible."

Chinese Dies As Result Of Fall

CALGARY, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Injured Oct. 28 in a fall on a street in Chinatown, Sit Tung, 68, Chinese laundryman, died Sunday in the General Hospital, where he had been confined since the accident. He suffered a severe wound on his forehead and his skull was fractured.

Turkeys Confused

MAGRATH, Nov. 11.—(CP)—The mild weather must have the chickens, and certainly toward the Volga River and Afghanistan at the mouth of the Caspian.

Such a drive, if successful, would cut off the Caucasus region from the rest of Russia. It would give the Nazis possession of the northern oil fields and the Soviet supply lines from the outside would be hard hit and Russia would have lost the industries of the Donets basin and beyond.

It might also bring the Germans close to contact with British forces if the latter decide to join the Russians in defending the Caucasus south of the mountains. However, the latter is not an immediate prospect. If the Germans do move into the Caucasus, they may reasonably be expected to stop at the northern slopes of the mountains range which cuts across the latter.

POSSIBLE APPROACH

This great barrier rises to a height of 16,000 feet and its few passes hardly are negotiable for a large military expedition, especially in winter. An approach might be attempted along the shores of the Black Sea and over water from the Crimea, if the latter falls.

The present of the British move into the northern Caucasus to engage the Germans is so remote that it hardly need be taken into consideration. Hence, a British-German clash in the Caucasus, which has been the subject of much speculation, is impossible, at least in the near future.

A German move against the Middle East through northern Turkey would be more likely.

In northern Russia, the situation around Leningrad offers interesting possibilities. The city has been defended so successfully that the Germans profess to have abandoned hope of taking it by assault. Instead, they seem to be trying to cut it off and starve it out.

That would be the object of the German drive toward Tikhvin. They claim to have taken the city, although the Russians say they are still 20 miles away.

Tikhvin is a small city on the railroad leading from Leningrad to the interior of Russia. Its possession would cut Leningrad off from supply and isolate the city's industry. However, the Germans not only would have to take it, but hold it through the winter, which would be no easy task over extended and inadequate communications lines.

Pacific Defences Are Discussed At Board Conference

MONTREAL, Nov. 11.—(CP)—"North American Pacific coast defences were discussed," said the one sentence announcement issued Monday night after the opening of a two-day session of the permanent joint defence board of Canada and the United States.

The announcement, issued jointly by the chairman of the two sections, Col. O. M. Biggar of Ottawa, and Major-General E. L. Guzman of New York, came as the board completed an eight-hour session behind closed doors.

Italian Troops Are Attacked By Yugoslavs

ROME, Nov. 11.—(AP)—An attack on Italian troops with bombs and machine gun fire at Spalato (Split) in the Dalmatian area of former Yugoslavia was reported by the Italian today.

One hundred and fifty hostages, described in a communique as "Communists," were arrested immediately.

They will be held until persons identified as these guilty of the attack have been arrested and placed on trial before a special tribunal for defence of the state.

RAND IS BOMBED
The communique said three bombs were hurled against a musical band of a division of Alpine troops who were going to a ceremony of lowering the colors late yesterday.

Twenty-four soldiers and 23 civilians were wounded, one soldier later dying.

Almost simultaneously, the communique said, a motor truck loaded with troops going on leave was hit by a burst of machine-gun fire in which several soldiers were wounded but not seriously.

150 ARRESTED
Immediately 150 were arrested, made up almost entirely of Communists elements coming in large part from another zone of the Balkans," the communique said.

"While awaiting to identify the guilty," it continued, the 150 prisoners, on orders from Rome will be considered hostages. The guilty will be tried before a special tribunal for defence of the state."

French Indicate Jibuti Surrender

VICHY, France, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Colonial Secretary Berthoin returned to Vichy by plane today after a hasty trip to Jibuti and declared France had decided to blow up the railway and harbor works at the Somaliland port before surrendering it to British forces.

Platon, who made his statement after a visit to Jibuti, where he surveyed the situation in the French colony.

Platon claimed the decision to destroy the colony's strategic communications before surrender was maintained in defiance of British warnings that anyone carrying out such an order would be tried by a military court after the British occupation and control.

Says Present War Last Act Of 1914

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle, Free French leader, in an article today in the American people Monday night said the present war is merely the last act, under its most barbarous aspect, of the 30 years' war begun in 1914, the final signals of tyranny against democracy.

Gen. De Gaulle said the French "do not blame democracy for the mistakes committed by bad leaders," adding that the four freedoms proclaimed by President Roosevelt had found "a resounding echo in the heart of suffering France."

The message was released in New York by the "Delegation de la France Libre aux Etats-Unis."

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—(CP)—An exchange of ministers between Canada and Russia was urged in the House of Commons Monday night by Rev. Dan McIvor Lib. For William.

Russia's attitude toward freedom of religion was typical of a change in Canada's newest ally, Russia, he recalled, had once advocated total disarmament but had been given little support.

Mr. McIvor told the house consideration should be given to obtaining higher prices for Canadian goods. First consideration in any system of bonuses should be given dependent on soldiers he suggested.

Cross Swords On Issues:

Speeches Heard By 250

After these sound business principles have been recognized there are still excess profits, then the consumer will be entitled to either improved service or a reduction in rates.

So much for the issues which the administration for 1942 will have to face.

Let us examine for a moment, another aspect of the situation.

For the past week my opponent has been retelling to you the progress which the city has made during the past four years and complaining about some injustice which he alleges has been done him by the Citizens' Committee.

RHODE ON OTHER FOOT

As a matter of fact the shoe is not on the other foot. It is not a legitimate claim that it is myself. When I stood aside a year ago, so that he might have "one more term" in the mayor's chair I think I might fairly have expected his support at this time.

Apparently he feels that the mayoralty has become his personal possession. However, personal differences on this point, not the important factors for your consideration. You are only concerned with the ultimate welfare of the city and you must decide on that basis only.

Let us examine, for a moment, the extravagant suggestions which my opponent makes. He is responsible for the progress made by the city since he took office four years ago.

I have on previous occasions pointed out to you the progress which the city has made. I have pointed out these claims, he has not referred to a single instance where he was the prime mover in any progressive step. When initiative was required or supplies were provided by the members of council.

The reduction of gas rates, the water affairs, the sewerage and Rupert street sewer project, along with countless other matters of the character, were initiated and framed by council.

But, apart from matters of policy, let us examine some matters of public importance, which have been raised under the mayor's direction. Let us see how he has reacted to them.

Six months ago, two senior members of the police force applied for extensions of time beyond the retirement age. This was within the purview of the council. The grant or reject, without reference to anyone else. But what happened? Instead of deciding on the merits of the matter, according to the needs of service and the requirements of the city, a recommendation that all civic employees attaining retirement age be continued to the city's service for the duration of the war.

Another illustration. Three months ago, the commissioners were asked to recommend to council a policy to be adopted with respect to supplying utilities to different municipalities. The result, nothing more has been heard of it.

Some days ago, we were informed for the first time about this kind of a housing scheme, which had been the mayor's passion for upwards of a year. But notwithstanding the fact that we are desperately in need of new housing, apparently nothing has been done so far—not even to the extent of informing council of the existence and now it is produced as a claim for help.

Those of you who listened to my broadcast last evening will recall my references to the lack of aggressiveness on the part of the mayor in bringing to the attention of the federal authorities the manifold advantages of our city as a centre of war industry and training. Finally, after an exasperating delay, which let a year behind our war effort in western Canada, several members of council and some aggressive, public-spirited business men did impress on the federal authorities the great possibilities of the city.

In due course, they decided it would be advantageous to use our exhibition grounds for a training camp. I can safely say that the only person here was thrilled that at last something would be accomplished.

The mayor refused to deal with the government and when it was finally signed, signed and delivered and publicly reported, it turned out to be just about as important a deal as anyone could possibly conceive.

drive a hard bargain in connection with the war effort. On the other hand, everyone knows that the Dominion government does not expect any particular contribution to make any special contribution. The fact is borne out by the much-better arrangements made by other Canadian cities for similar grounds.

Here are the facts:

By the terms of the agreement, the city receives $5,000 per year, to meet its continuing charges in respect of the grounds.

But that figure is hopelessly inadequate to meet the carrying charges which for 1941 are $16,730. In addition, the city loses an annual net revenue of about $7,000 from the arena.

But the crowning feature of this arrangement is that since the Dominion government does not carry insurance on its property, the city still pays $25,000 per year in insurance premiums on the exhibition buildings and the city is bound by the terms of the contract to replace the buildings if they burn down.

So here is the result, ladies and gentlemen:

Either because of ineptitude or because of the city's continual failure to push the city's advantage, the city is losing $16,730 per year, or $20,000 per year for the duration of the war.

This is money which no fair-minded person should ask the city to carry on behalf of the Dominion government and the city.

Mr. Campbell: The exhibition grounds are leased by the city to the exhibition association, which is a body corporate and separate entity from the city administration. The city council has nothing whatever to do with Mr. Abbott.

A heckler: If elected will you be influenced by anyone?

Mr. Campbell: It has never been lived that I was influenced by anyone.

Mr. Campbell: I have been accused on many things but never of being afraid.

'Cries of "Get off the platform" and "Shut up" came from the floor. Mr. Campbell left the platform.

RECORD OF PROGRESS

Mayor John W. Fry (Independent, mayoralty) I would like to speak on these two papers that were sent to me today. The mayor today has a large newspaper-size sheet with his own election platform and a smaller leaflet, published by the Citizens' Committee. I hope you read mine carefully. I would like to answer for the past year.

It is a record that we all should be proud of. One that not only I myself, can be proud of, but that every citizen here tonight can be proud of. Here is the commissioners' report, dealing with the affairs of the city for the nine months period, up to November.

The (mayor indicated one side of the record to the audience.)

In here, instead of the issues of the day, you see a personal attack on myself. I have always made it a point in all of my campaigns—the last, the eighth campaign—never to mention an opponent. But when I get a little less thick, will I get a little less thick.

They say here last Mayor Fry attacked the last year as Ald Campbell stood aside for me last year it is only right that I stand aside for him this year. They say that Mayor Fry is not as sporty as Ald Campbell, and I should not be.

Well, I say right here, that if Ald Campbell was a candidate for mayor last year the information was never communicated to me. I heard it off my street and from this floor. The Citizens' Committee is fully within its rights to run who it wishes to run.

Mr. Campbell: I positively defy you and Mayor Fry to show where you reduced the price of gas in this city.

Mr. Campbell: The agreement calls for the payment for the first 1,000 feet and 20 cents for each subsequent 1,000 feet.

A heckler: What amount is the city council allowed to spend with respect to the business?

AMOUNT INCREASED

Mr. Campbell: I don't know just what amount can be spent without the approval of the council. I would have to look that up. It was finally signed, signed and delivered and publicly reported, it turned out to be just about as important a deal as anyone could possibly conceive.

he obtained various jobs. One summer he worked on a boat at the Pacific coast. In another he worked in a sand pit in Illinois. Another summer was spent in England. After that he practiced law and has been practicing it for 14 years. Now to return to the first person.

I know that many of you do not think well of lawyers. Unfortunately, in some cases, this opinion may be justified.

But in the course of his activities lawyer comes up against a wide variety of experience. He acts for the rich and the poor and for all sorts of people.

I must have obtained some knowledge of the law and its problems from the contacts made in the practice of law. If you decide that this form of experience will be of value to you in handling school board affairs, I know you will vote for me. If you decide that experience is of no value to you, then you will not vote for me.

I am interested in the school board because my wife and I have two boys. One is six years old and the other is six weeks old. The first is at school now and I think I am more interested in his education in a wisely democratic way than in anything else.

"MISS JOE"

C. E. Garpy (Citizens' Committee, alderman): I want to apologize for some of the things I have said during the campaign seeing this last meeting. I am a little severe with Miss Crang. But Miss Crang is a very young lady. She got me fired up when she said a lot of extreme promises, but I'll take all that back. Mrs. Clarke is not here now but I would like to say that we certainly miss her. We may not have always agreed with him but we liked him. Now Mrs. Clarke is carrying on.

Council must be fair to the taxpayers. I think you will agree we have made a start at some reduction in taxes. It is not all we had hoped for. The past council tried to be fair to all citizens; to the taxpayers, to the employers and the returned men.

To the taxpayers. If we have made all the reductions hoped for, we have made a start and there is a hope that it will continue.

The city owes a lot to its employees. The employees have been faithful. We've got collective bargaining, we've restored the salaries, we have started a pension scheme that is an improvement over the last one. If the government does not bring the cities under the provisions of the cost-of-living bonus something will have to be done. I serve on the transportation committee last year. You all know the difficulty of getting anything done. We will have to make the best of what we have and help keep roads, cars and equipment in first class condition.

HARDY PERENNIAL

J. M. Douglas (Citizens' Committee, alderman): I began to wonder, when I was asked to stand by the Citizens' Committee, whether I was a sort of hardy perennial. I have served as mayor and alderman in the past.

A good deal has been said in the past by speakers in the matter of the sinking fund. I have said that I would do it if elected to the city council. I have said that I would do it if elected to the city council. I have said that I would do it if elected to the city council.

Council, in the last two years has relied on any easy line in financing. It could be said that the sinking fund and borrow if it was not for the fact that it was difficult in financing because we had to borrow in the open market.

Council, since the Fortin plan came into effect, has been able to dip into the sinking fund which has $270,000 in it. Actually about $230,000 was borrowed. The sinking fund may be said to be the city of Edmonton.

But now we must repay that money. We must begin this year and next and the money to pay must come out of current taxes. It is not going to be an easy matter to finance this year in the next two or three years. For that reason you must have men and women who can save money and men and women who can save money.

WHICH IS BETTER

In regard to the utilities, I may say that it is true the utilities have been making money and the profits have been used to reduce taxes. Which is the better, to have a reduced rate on water and telephone—these can't have a lower rate railway fare, which is already the lowest in Canada? Or not in North America? Or do you want the tax rate reduced?

In Norwood probably more homes are owned than in any other part of the city. People who own their homes are better satisfied if they can pay less for their homes.

Mind you, I don't know whether we can do it. Also, mind you, I am not making any promise. I am just promising to do my best.

But, I would like the tax rate to be reduced. I am not making a pledge, because I don't know what can be done.

My experience in governmental matters should count and if returned to council I will do my best to conduct the affairs along sane, businesslike methods. I am content to do my best.

candidate. They represent the majority of the citizens of this city and if you see your way clear to return me, I promise to serve you to the best of my ability.

A heckler: Who are the Citizens Committee?

Mr. Douglas: The taxpayers, taxpayers and residents of Edmonton, anyone who has the best interests of the city at heart can belong.

A heckler: What does it cost?

Mr. Douglas: One dollar a year.

A heckler: Is it possible to have the polling place at the city hall without belonging to the Citizens Committee?

Mr. Douglas: Certainly.

Miss Margaret Crang (Civic Progressive Association, aldermanic): A poor girl hasn't a penny to give in the election this year. Just look over the list of candidates and see how many either serve as mayor or run for mayor. There's Dan Knott, Sheppard, Ainsley, Patterson, Ainsley and Douglas. With that line-up what chance has a poor girl?

"STEALS MY THUNDER"

First I thought I would get along with Mr. Garrison for saying at the Memorial Hall for the night of the city would be to bring in the election this year. Just look over the list of candidates and see how many either serve as mayor or run for mayor. There's Dan Knott, Sheppard, Ainsley, Patterson, Ainsley and Douglas. With that line-up what chance has a poor girl?

But if there had been eight Margaret Crangs and Joe Clarke opposed the Fortin plan we would have a better financial situation in the city now.

I got your the nickel car. I elected I will work to reduce the rates for domestic electric light reduced from five to four cents per kilowatt hour. The water rates should also be reduced.

There are a million dollars in profits from the utilities. If the taxes are reduced by using the utilities surplus it will mean a few dollars to the small taxpayer.

There are a million dollars in profits from the utilities. If the taxes are reduced by using the utilities surplus it will mean a few dollars to the small taxpayer.

Therefore I believe the profits should be passed on to consumers. Miss Crang was then questioned by the audience.

Question: You are very proud about the five-cent carfare. We are told that the fare has actually increased from five to six cents. Is that true?

Answer: In 1940 the commission report a loss of $8,000 in operations of the street car system. I don't tell you that soon after the fare went into effect they started to tax the system. Until in 1940 they have also charged upkeep against it. Until in 1940 it was $14,000 in addition to a tax of $8,000.

The street car system is paying better than it ever before. In October there was the greatest month ever. It cost me nothing to run out street car empty as full.

Question: What about old age pension?

Answer: I am in favor of old age pension at $5 in October of 1941 and $10 a month at the end of the cost-of-living bonus on top of that. Because $10 now won't get you a ham in addition to a tax of $8,000.

HOUSING PLAN

Mrs. Gwendolen Clarke, (Civic Progressive Association, aldermanic): I can't claim I have returned soldier or a lawyer. I have been always interested in home-making. As a convention of town-planning and home building on the Local Council of Women I have had this pressing problem under consideration. The Dominion, which has a wartime housing plan. In 44 cities and towns across Canada 14,000 buildings and more than 100,000 new homes have been constructed.

"There is also a building scheme, whereby small homes to cost from $15,000 to $20,000 for workmen are to be produced in the city. As to the cost-of-living bonus I think the government is going to pay to this to dependence of those on active service. But there has been nothing said about those on mothers' allowance."

There is a bill up about the cost of living. It is a bill to bring up under, healthy children.

My list, of course, deals with my employees. I believe that all employees, that would otherwise come under the order should receive the bonus.

And indulgent need it.

The Citizens Committee claims it has chosen candidates to represent all classes. There are no women among the candidates. You should show that you have noted their omission by electing two women.

Re-elected to be an issue. It is the radio that rent control is not needed here. But that doesn't prevent the correct picture. The very fact that a rent control board was set up in the city last year, lowering rents in many cases.

Tenants cannot be evicted because they appeal to the board and the board also protects the landlord.

Ald. Sidney Parsons, speaking on behalf of Miss Cline, (Civic Progressive Association, aldermanic): Mr. Crang has been making quite a few speeches and as a new-comer in political campaigning this talking matter day has been a real test to the glands in his throat getting started.

His speech has lasted for 20 years. He is in the service of the Motor Car Supply, I believe. Maybe he is the reason the city is in a state of parts. At any rate, parts come high when he buys them. (Laughter.) He is a member of the Citizens Committee. You will hear a lot more of him for the next four years.

I have never heard of the Citizens Committee candidate.

In Calgary they went to Labor and asked Labor to name its representatives on the Citizens Committee. They would never do that. Why the candidates' own unions never sent them is a mystery.

BREAK UP "RACKET"

The people of Norwood and East Edmonton can dominate the situation.

You have a chance to break up the racket. I guarantee that if you elect the Citizens Committee it will turn up enough gasoline running cars around to keep several bombers in the air for some time.

For once you would like to see democracy with the polls. The Labor party won't be able to send you to take their votes and elect to vote. But I ask each and every one of you to use your vote. And in so doing, send your gas to the polls.

SOFTENING PLANTS

Joseph W. Adair (Independent, aldermanic): I don't propose to deal with fantastic softening plants. For eight years the Citizens Committee will tell you, we have the first in the city. The softener dries the finger and gives backs between the fingers.

He has a chance to win by his own merits and not by the fact that he is a member of the Citizens Committee. They are much to be preferred to those buses that keep running around in circles.

Mr. Ainsley has exposed the Citizens Committee. It enlarges itself to a banquet and refuses to let its information, where he says the agreement over the exhibition grounds was not presented to council, before being sealed and delivered. His information is incorrect.

COPY ON EVERY DESK

"I was present at the time and there was a copy of the agreement on every alderman's desk."

Mr. Sydie replied: "Thank you, Dan. I obtained my information from a member of the Citizens Committee. It is a lie," someone shouted.

Mr. Sydie again repeated the information from a member of the council and left the platform.

SUCCESSIONS IN CRIMEA PRESAGE MOVES

British See German Offensive On Northern Caucasus

Nazis May Strike Blows At British-Controlled Regions Beyond Turkey

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN

LONDON, Nov. 11.—(CP)—German successes in the Crimea appear to presage a violent offensive against North Caucasus in the near future and to threaten, though more distantly, the whole Allied position in the Near East.

Without straining their imaginations the British are now able to foresee not only a direct German attack on the oilfields of North Caucasus and Baku but, beyond that, a series of blows.

against Turkey and British-controlled territories which is beyond. Although they do not seem to fit the probable timetable in advance, they seem to believe that the Germans may strike through Turkey at southern Caucasus either this winter or next spring and that 1942 will bring a showdown for the possession of Iran, Syria, Iraq and Egypt itself.

The London Times suggests that the enemy's real objective is, first, to interest in the flow of oil to the Russian Empire from the country's main source of supply, and doubtless after that the acquisition of these supplies for himself. And it is certain that this does not exhaust his program.

A pause long or short might follow the oil war, and it is possible that the 1942 campaign might be aimed at the oilfields of the Middle East and the Persian Gulf.

Britain Will Lead

Way Coldwell Says

LONDON, Nov. 11.—(CP)—M. J.

Coldwell, C.E.F. member of the Canadian House of Commons for Winnipeg-Minneapolis, told the executive of the British Labor Party.

Mr. Coldwell, a member of the Canadian parliamentary group touring the wartime Britain, described labor and producer organizations in Canada and stressed the problem of marketing cooperation and the lack of collective bargaining.

His audience included Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio, A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, and Sir Walter Cline, general secretary of the Trades Union Congress.

Giant Blackout

Test Conducted In Quebec Area

MONTREAL, Nov. 11.—(CP)—More than 30 Quebec cities, towns and hamlets were darkened Monday night in a giant blackout test which stretched from Montreal to Quebec.

On the stroke of 9:45 p.m. "alert" signals—radio, fire, electric, telephone and motor horns—sounded in thickly-populated centers along the winding St. Lawrence river.

Down to Quebec and beyond, a distance of nearly 200 miles.

The signals meant "lights out" for hundreds of thousands of persons faced with stiff penalties for infraction of the regulations. Fifteen minutes later the "all-clear" was sounded, and at 10:30 p.m. the "all-clear" was signalled.

"After a thorough investigation I am convinced that what they had in mind was running as good as the best in the world. Oil was being shipped out of the area. However, improvements could be made in the method of extraction.

MAY BE NEEDED

"Oil is perhaps the most important of our munitions requirements," Mr. MacNicol said, "and next year we may have to be shipping vast quantities of oil for use of the British navy. If it may be, I hope it will not be impossible for them to get the oil from Iraq or Iran and there is no other source except the Dutch East Indies, Venezuela, and the United States.

"No I am going to ask the minister to have his engineers survey that oil field, and if it is found that the oil can be produced rapidly, to bring it all into this country as quickly as possible.

"I quite realize that to do so might result in our having too many refineries after the war. But that is not our problem now.

"Our problem today is to win the war, and then deal with these other problems after the war."

MacNicol Urges Development Of Athabaska Oil

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—(CP)—An appeal for speedy development of the Athabaska tar sands as a major wartime source of oil for the Empire was made in the House of Commons Monday by John R. MacNicol (Cons. Toronto-Davenport).

Only recently returned from a trip to the northwest, Mr. MacNicol referred to the United States estimates that Canada might have a potential supply of 350,000,000,000 barrels of oil in the sands. Production had been started but should be increased.

GERMANS WANTED OIL

He recalled that "the German government or someone associated with it" had been interested before the war in building a pipeline from an oil field in Canada to the Pacific coast.

"I cannot think for one second that they had the Turner Valley oil field in mind," Mr. MacNicol said. "It is a possibility."

He had asked Resources Minister Bennett last session whether a pipeline to the coast from Turner Valley would be worthwhile and received a negative answer.

"Then what part of the country does Hitler or the German government have in mind to run a pipeline from?" he asked.

"After a thorough investigation

Crabb Will Direct Air Force Manning

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—(CP)—Wing

Commander H. P. Crabb has been appointed director of air force manning of the Royal Canadian Air Force with the rank of group captain. It was announced Monday night at RCAF headquarters.

This directorate is charged with the task of manning in the R.C.A.F. with its officers and men, as well as being responsible for pre-recruitment education and training. It is the largest directorate in the force headquarters.

A veteran flier of the First Great War Group Capt. Crabb resumed his aerial activities in 1933 when he joined the Canadian Auxiliary Air Force with the rank of flight lieutenant. In 1937 he assumed command of the 12th squadron. He relinquished this post in September 1938 when, upon declaration of war, he mobilized the squadron for active service.

Dogs Of War Train For Role In Man's Conflict With British Army

ON THE TRAIL OF "ENEMY PARACHUTIST"

READY TO DELIVER "MESSAGE TO GARCIA"

QUARTETTE OF CANINE WARRIORS UNDERGO "INSPECTION" BY CAMERA

READY TO ROUT OUT AN "ENEMY IN AMBUSH" FOR COMRADES IN ARMS

RESISTANCE TO SMOKE IS AN ESSENTIAL PART OF TRAINING

A FENCE BARRIER IS TAKEN WITH EASE

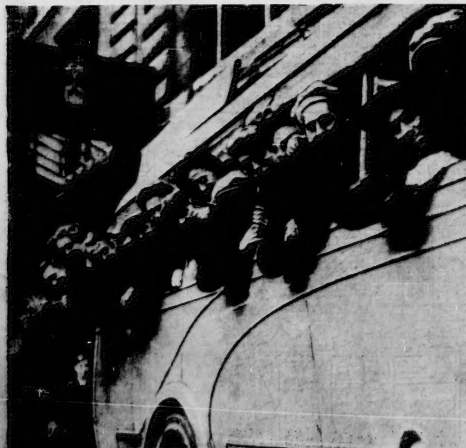

In war-torn Britain, where every man, woman and child has felt the crushing force of modern warfare, man's "best friend," too, has been mustered into service for invaluable tasks, such as courier service, detecting enemy ambushes and other general work. Well equipped, heavily guarded kennels prepare these canine warriors for their wartime roles under army auspices. Instructors exercising every patience and skill at their command, have performed miracles in turning out hundreds of four-legged, fleet-footed charges, fully prepared to take their place in the "Battle of Britain." Animals are trained to ignore shellfire, smoke, weather conditions and attempted enemy distraction from their assigned duties. With permission of British censors, camera brings intimate close-ups as canine "recruits" are put through their various paces.

Italian Prisoners Build Own Quarters

Italian prisoners of war in England are shown helping to build their own winter quarters. One prisoner piles the bricks while another applies the cement. Other prisoners in England are used on farms.

Newfoundland Recruits For R.N.

This party of smiling volunteers for the Royal Navy from Newfoundland were pictured in London, en route to their training depot. These men have made their living on the sea and are eagerly sought by the Royal Navy. Scores of Newfoundlanders are already manning Royal Navy crafts and operating merchantmen carrying supplies to Britain.

Sees Battleships A-Building

Touring the New York navy yard where two 45,000-ton battleships are under construction for the U.S. navy and where the scars of battle are being erased from some wounded British ships, the Duke of Windsor is shown, centre, with captain of the yard J. J. Borshek. At right rear is Rear-Admiral Adolphus Andrews. The Duke talked with British sailors and American workers.

Pilot's Homework

When not aloft in pursuit of enemy aircraft, pilots of the R.A.F. must study new and different models of enemy planes. Bomber pilot does his "homework" on western desert.

Railings Put To War Use

The railings of St. Clement Lanes, historic London church, which was destroyed in an enemy raid on the British capital in recent months, are the latest contribution to British war effort. Workmen remove them for conversion into tanks, guns and shells.

British Ambassador At Soviet Benefit

Lord Halifax, right, British ambassador to the United States, greets Andrei Gromyko, left, charge d'affaires from the U.S.S.R., at the Russian war relief benefit in Madison Square Garden, New York city, as Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador from the U.S. to the Soviet Union, looks on. Lord Halifax, declaring "There will always be a Russia," called on the U.S. for all possible aid to stem the Nazi avalanche in Europe.

Daughters Who Bare

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

BUT June didn't go riding with Mugsy Barker the following morning. Too much was enough, she decided, and Mugsy was not to be completely monopolizing her time that she had no opportunity to attempt to recover the lost jewels.

So she sent Barker a telegram and told the apartment early. She urged Dolly to leave, too, because she didn't want her to be annoyed by Mugsy Barker or any of his benchmen come around to check up.

"I told you I shouldn't stay here," June said. "Now I'm tangled up in this gamster, and there's no telling what will happen. I'd better find a place of my own today."

"Nonsense," Dolly said. "Nothing happened so far, and I'm not afraid of Mugsy and his gang. They can't do anything to me."

June caught a bus to Kensington and got off at the Park. She hoped to have the oak tree to herself, but Miss Grebe and little Jimmy as well as Chang already were there, now plying their favorite bench.

The nurse greeted her like a long-lost friend and even Chang, tired by his lead at the end of the bench, was friendly. Jimmy went about his serious business of playing without paying any attention to anyone.

He did pat the dog for awhile and a short time later Chang was running around wildly. Apparently Jimmy had introduced his bench.

"You gotta keep that dog tied up or get out the Park," a gardener said, coming up to the bench.

"He's doing no harm," Miss Grebe answered.

June walked the nurse corral the racing dog and get him back on the long lead. She watched him go to the limit of the leather strap, and then tugging the buckle.

The lead was long enough to permit him to reach the oak tree bench, which she had buried the jewels. It was entirely possible that he might have pawed up the carvings, but he was now growling around, she decided. There were several clumps of bushes, too, and he could reach from the bench up.

There was no chance, however, under the sharp eye of Miss Grebe. She'd have to wait until the nurse and then try out her new theory.

But at noon, Miss Grebe produced a luncheon basket from beneath her coat. Apparently she had discovered.

"I was up with Junior six times last night—which is no mean feat, even once."

Bombs Fail To Stop Spiritual Work In Britain

Ability of the British churches to carry on with their work of ministering to their congregations in humanitarian and spiritual matters was positively "amazing" Fraser H. Gerrie, managing editor of the Edmonton Journal, declared in speaking to the Metropolitan United Church congregation at the Sunday evening service.

Mr. Gerrie dealt with the subject of "Britain at War" or "What We Found in England". He spoke of his contacts with British churches. He said he had had the privilege of speaking in one church. He had attended a service at Coventry Cathedral as well as at St. Paul's Cathedral, London. In addition, he saw many other churches that had suffered from bombing.

"I am amazed at the way in which the churches are carrying on under the stress and duress of war," he said.

He emphasized the effort being made to distribute milk in various parts of the country.

Mr. Gerrie, who was one of a party of 12 Canadian editors to visit Britain at the invitation of the British government, said that all editors had independently come to the conclusion that the war was the greatest crisis in the history of the world and that the Canadian Expeditionary Force would be essential to win the war.

Newton Speaks To Students' Union

"We've got to be prepared to face much greater sacrifices," Dr. Robert Newton, acting president of the University of Alberta, told members of the U of A students' union at an annual budget at the weekend in convocation hall. "We also feel that the university and its students are filling an essential service in providing an education of professional standards."

"None of you need feel apologetic that you are going to university these times if you are making the most of your opportunity. It is highly important that a well-educated corps of clear-thinking people be provided," the university head stated.

"The students' union is recognized as one of the important parts in your democratic training," Dr. Newton thanked the student gathering for making the university president, stating, "there is nothing I prize more highly than some position which is in full contact with students."

Robert Macbeth, president of the union, introduced Dr. Newton.

War Savings At High Total Now

At the end of the third week the progress report of the War Savings committee for Edmonton shows that 62 per cent of the objective for a bomber has been reached. Progress of the report is indicated daily on five big boards set up in strategic places throughout the city. Most prominently they are at the corner of Jasper and First Street. The boards show the total in ten sections with 10 per cent indicated on each section. Each day a portion of the bomber indicating the amount of purchases for the day is substituted. On Monday 62 per cent of the bomber was in black.

Ratepayers To Protest Plan

Called for the purpose of protesting against the proposed provincial government plan to establish enlarged municipal divisions, a meeting of the ratepayers of Spruce Grove municipality has been called to be held in the Western community hall at 2 p.m. Friday.

The protest is based on the fact that the present municipal divisions of Spruce Grove are already paying 30 per cent of the taxes to cover the enlarged section division and a further increase in taxation under present conditions would be unjustifiable. R. Secord, one of the ratepayers, stated.

"The ratepayers of Inga and Tumbach municipalities would be included with Spruce Grove in the enlarged division and under this plan the mill rate would be raised," he said. "This would be too much of a burden to the Spruce Grove taxpayers."

Cloudy Weather

Remembrance Day Citizens Tuesday marked the annual Remembrance Day holiday under cloudy skies. The general atmosphere was festive despite the fact that the day was overcast and the temperature was in the 40s.

"Fair, not much change in temperature," the temperature was 42 at 2 p.m. Tuesday, the lowest for the day being 36 above, recorded at 7:30 a.m. Monday's high was 46 above at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday's barometric reading was 27.46, decreasing.

High sale of tickets are included in Columbia's largest family of 22 boys and girls.

Playwright Visits Former Unit

Robert Sherwood, well-known American playwright and author, recently visited the Canadian unit in England with which he served in the Great War. He is here shown chatting with the Officer Commanding and the Pipe Major, Donald Sutherland.

He described his own experience of bombing at Bournemouth the night before he left England. He recalled that his father, the late Capt. Rev. J. P. Gerrie, frequently had spoken at Metropolitan churches. Overseas he had met several boys of the church's congregation, including David, Jack Campbell, son of A.D. George A. Campbell.

Concert Group Nears Mark In Queen's Fund

Objective of a thousand dollars before Christmas set by the McCauley Concert Group, to go to the Queen's Canadian Fund in Aid of Air Force Veterans, appears to be within sight with the total climbing to $842.18 as a result of last week's activities.

The Carleton Place Community League turned over $32.50 as net return from a bazaar and a dance. The McCauley group's assistance supplied the music. Another $7.55 was added from the sale of cream cooking at the Market Square on Saturday. Several contributions from the youth committee, and a cake auction by Arthur Cloud has helped reach the total over the $800 mark.

Laboratory For Gasoline Tests

A gasoline testing laboratory is now under construction at the University of Alberta. This will be a two-story brick building about 1800 feet, located on the north side of the campus.

The provincial department of trade and industry in 1939 asked the Alberta Research Council to take charge of its gasoline tests, and the department provided the additional staff and equipment required.

The altered conditions brought about by the war, and the establishment of specifications by the Dominion oil controller, have made Alberta specifications non-operative at present; but the required testing of motor and aviation gasoline has been greatly increased. Samples are now submitted for test from flying fields in western Ontario and the four provinces. The present accommodation is both unsuitable for the work, and inadequate, hence the new building designed specifically for the purpose.

"Tests are made to show whether the gasoline will allow the engine to start readily, accelerate quickly, and run without fuel waste or oil dilution. Other tests control safety in transportation and handling, freedom from vapor lock in operation, and absence of corrosive contamination, and of gummy material that might clog the carburetor and valves."

The laboratory will be entirely devoted to research and testing of gasoline and other fuel oils submitted by the province and Dominion.

Farm Judges City Visitors

En route to their homes in various parts of the province, a group of boys and girls, winners in the Canadian National judging competition, passed through Edmonton Monday on the C.N.R. from Toronto.

They were Eleanor Mullin and Doris J. Perry of Lethbridge; Robert G. Lewis and Ray L. Rigby of Edmonton; Robert and Nancy Dunbar of Calgary; R. Cole, Drumheller, and Calvin McGhee, Prince George.

The judging contest was scheduled under the auspices of the Canadian Council on Boys and Girls Work. All those who visited the city Monday participated in cattle judging. Miss Mullin said the contest "didn't seem so tough." She is a member of a Junior Dairy Club at Lethbridge, which club of members, sent two representatives to the Toronto contest.

Bob Lewis said the competition was very keen and that he personally had a stiff fight against other competitors from all parts of the Dominion.
